Read before relying on any output. Truth Hero is a decision-support and document-reliability tool. It is not a truth engine, certification body, investigative service or substitute for an expert.

1. No Guarantee of Truth, Accuracy or Completeness

Truth Hero assesses information using automated methods, the content you submit and sources that may be available at a particular time. Its results can contain errors, omissions, hallucinations, bias, false positives and false negatives. A Truth Score, alert, citation or recommendation is an indication for further review and not an assurance that content is correct, complete, current, authentic, lawful or fit for purpose.

2. Not Professional Advice

Nothing provided by Truth Hero is legal, accounting, financial, investment, insurance, medical, clinical, psychological, employment, regulatory, security, compliance or other professional advice. Obtain advice from a qualified professional before making decisions in a regulated, high-risk or material context.

3. Do Not Delegate Material Decisions to Truth Hero

Do not use Truth Hero as the sole or decisive basis for a decision affecting a person's legal rights, employment, credit, insurance, healthcare, safety, education, reputation, access to services or other significant interests. Ensure that a suitably qualified person reviews the underlying evidence, assesses context and retains decision-making authority.

4. Source and Citation Limits

A source reference may be unavailable, altered, incomplete, inaccurate, partisan, out of date, wrongly matched or subject to access restrictions. The presence of a citation does not mean that Truth Hero has independently verified it or endorses the publisher. You must open and assess sources yourself before relying on them.

5. Confidential, Sensitive and Regulated Information

You are responsible for ensuring that your use is authorised and appropriate. Do not submit confidential, personal, sensitive, privileged, classified or regulated information unless you have the necessary authority and the Truth Hero plan, approved data-processing arrangement and integration configuration expressly support the relevant use case. Apply your organisation's information-security and record-keeping requirements.

6. Your Responsibility

You are responsible for the content you submit, how you interpret Outputs, the decisions you make and the consequences of using or sharing Outputs. You must independently validate material facts, preserve relevant evidence and apply a human review process proportionate to the risk.

7. Third Parties

Truth Hero may rely on third-party platforms, AI models, data providers or publicly available information. We do not control these third parties and are not responsible for their availability, content, decisions, security or practices.

8. Limitation

To the maximum extent permitted by law, Truth Hero disclaims liability arising from reliance on Outputs or third-party sources. This disclaimer is subject to the Terms of Use and does not exclude consumer guarantees or other rights that cannot lawfully be excluded.
